

GTU Prof. Zaza Tsiramua Erasmus+ Mobility at the University of Beira Interior

On October 14-19, 2019, Prof. Zaza Tsiramua from the Faculty of Informatics and Control Systems of Georgian Technical University visited the University of Beira Interior (Portugal) within Erasmus+ mobility project for training activities coordinated by UBI. Georgian Professor participated in Erasmus+ International Staff Week.

During the mobility Prof. Tsiramua has been working on the issues such as:

- University computer network settlement and management, network policy;
- Actual services at the University of Beira Interior's IT services;
- Computer network security and reliability;
- University web services;
- Usage of wireless technologies at the University;
- Supporting electronic and distant learning technologies;
- The aspects of organization of IT infrastructure at the University of Beira, creation of secure and reliable Computer Network in the university and other topics.

Georgian Professor shared Georgian Technical University network management experience with Portugal colleagues. AT working meeting were considered follow-up cooperation activities in education and research.

The activities conducted within the mobility will significantly contribute to create e-Infrastructure in the Georgian Technical University, which will be in compliance with the Open Science Initiative of the European Union:

1. Pan-European Scientific-Educational Network GEANT
2. Cloud open technologies of the open science of Europe Cloud EOSC
3. European Data Infrastructure EDI

Within the framework of this mobility both Georgian and Portuguese colleagues were working on the upgrading of University network services and enhance availability with pan-European GÉANT network, which is a fundamental element of Europe's e-infrastructure, delivering the pan-European GÉANT network for scientific excellence, research, education and innovation.

Prof. Z. Tsiramua visited the Server farms of the University of Beira and University branches.

Herewith, for the monitoring purposes Prof. Zaza Tsiramua met GTU student Michail Khasaia from the Faculty of Business Technology, who was selected within the previous Call and now is conducting his Erasmus+ mobility at the University of Beira (for 2019-20 academic year fall semester).

International Staff Week programme included social-cultural activities as well, kindly organized by the host university.